PRODUCT DETAILS

- ❖ IntegrateOS is a powerful, sophisticated web-based organisational survey system designed for any questionnaire needs, such as Employee Climate Surveys, Customer Surveys, Training Needs Analyses, Product Surveys, etc. You can create rich, easy to complete questionnaires and produce detailed reports for analysing the results. This is all achieved through your browser with no need to install any software, and can be used anywhere there is an internet connection. Because it is browser-based your staff, customers, associates and others can access your questionnaires 24/7 anywhere in the world.
- ❖ IntegrateOS runs from a secure web server, can be password protected and assures confidentiality. The system comes with ready to use questionnaires or you can customise this to suit your business or use your own pre-existing questionnaire, with the ability to define your own questions and rating scales. The system can be 'branded' with your corporate image and can be set up to run on a website specifically dedicated for your participants; and we offer full administration options and a dedicated telephone hotline for participant support.
- ❖ IntegrateHR aren't just another company selling software, but a true HR consulting company with real expertise in the design and implementation of questionnaires. We can help you with all of your survey (questionnaire) needs, including consulting with you about design and application, training administrators and users, and helping you analyse and strategise regarding both the survey and its results
